"Kazakhstan should be perceived throughout the world as a highly educated country whose population uses three languages. These are: Kazakh as the state language, Russian as the language of interethnic communication and English as the language of successful integration into the global economy."

Nazarbayev.N.A.

Our country is a multinational state and it is necessary to study languages while living in Kazakhstan. Now the state and every person understands how important knowledge is languages, but this raises the question: "If people realize the full significance languages, then why most of them the population does not seek to study them?". First, for the development of the language, you need language environment. At the moment, in our country has only two more the actual languages are Kazakh and Russian, and the English environment is very weak. Secondly, there is not enough modern literatures and good information content that could interest young people and thereby encourage her to learn the language. The introduction of a system of trilingual education can be dangerous, because great importance is given not only to training programs, but also to the educational process. After all, it is important not only to form a picture of the world of a future specialist, it is also important to educate a person, a patriot in him.

The new trilingual education is still being considered as an effective tool to increase the competitiveness of Kazakhstanis on the world stage. This reform was included in the program "Kazakhstan-2030", according to which it is planned that 20% of the population will be able to use English fluently. Kazakhs who will speak fluently in their native, English and Russian languages will increase their competitiveness in the global labor market.

At the moment, knowledge of a foreign language in everyday life in many cases and not in one, is an important aspect of the life of a modern person. Knowledge of various foreign languages allows you to study the culture of other states, learn their traditions, contributes to the formation of a more extensive vocabulary, develops memory, thinking and speech. A good vocabulary base with proper knowledge of a foreign language is necessary for the effective interaction of states in the international arena. In the modern world, the study of foreign languages is so important and relevant that a person who does not develop himself on a global scale is considered backward. Now the role of a foreign language in the education system has changed dramatically, it has turned from an ordinary additional subject not only into the main element of the modern education system, but also into a means of achieving the set goals.

Surely everyone had a dream to travel. Like everyone else, I also dream about it. Traveling you will learn a lot of new things and look at the world with different eyes. You will grow, reach heights and recognize yourself. But the most important thing that is necessary for this is knowledge of foreign languages. Knowledge of other languages can be a ticket to the big world.

I think what is important is that a person must understand his essence and achieve the dreams. Therefore, we must live the life given to us beautifully and must use every opportunity to achieve the goal. Every person wants to live in good conditions. A good education, a favorite specialty, self-understanding and self-development, a broad outlook, large-scale thinking give us a good life. And to think big, we need to know what's going on in the world. Knowledge will help determine the level of success, build a career, be a worthy representative of your country. A person feels comfortable, free, confident and independent in another country. The language will help to receive information from any sources, to be informed and mobile in society. A good specialist, in addition to special knowledge, must speak three languages, since his career growth and his position among colleagues will depend on this.

I believe that it is necessary to learn foreign languages during school years. Because after graduating from school, another world will open before you, in which you must build yourself and your future. Many children after school enter standard professions, such as teachers or doctors. I don't want to say that we don't need teachers and doctors. But there are more other specialties in the world that we really need in order to develop the country. Our country really needs personnel who have received education at the border and who know large-scale ideas and events. It is important that our specialists, firstly, keep abreast of the development of world science and technology and do not waste their strength and resources on creating what already exists in other countries, and, secondly, use development of our economy, everything valuable and advanced in world science and technology at the lowest price. And to keep abreast of the latest developments in the world of science and technology, you need to be able to read articles in the original language.

In conclusion, I want to say that each language is beautiful in itself. People need to know how to use knowledge of languages to their advantage. Learning foreign languages helps to better understand the meaning of the words of the native language, to trace the influence of one language on another. In the modern world, knowledge of a foreign language is the norm for active and purposeful people, if you communicate fluently in several languages, it will increase your life prospects. Of course, learning a language is not easy at all. However, everything is possible in our world, the main thing is a strong belief in your own strength. Knowledge of languages gives us the opportunity to build a confident future. We are building our tomorrow a today.

As the world becomes more globalized and interconnected, the ability to speak multiple languages is becoming increasingly important. This is particularly true for those who are interested in pursuing careers in international business, politics, or academia. But the benefits of trilingualism go beyond career opportunities. Studies have shown that multilingualism can improve cognitive function, enhance problem-solving skills, and even delay the onset of age-related cognitive decline.

One approach to promoting trilingualism is through the use of Content and Language Integrated Learning, or CLIL. CLIL is an educational approach in which
